

District Heating and Cooling Networks are...

- Depends on the local conditions
- should be running on renewables but they need to transition like all other energy systems
- must be transformed to low-temperature distribution systems with high shares of waste heat or renewable heat
- Currently not good enough but have a large potential for decarbonisation

